Role: Sales Development Representative

Dear Hiring Team,

As an independent lead generation specialist with hands-on experience building multi-channel B2B pipelines from scratch, I was drawn to the Sales Development Representative position at Attentive. I am highly motivated by metrics, and the opportunity to book meetings with leading brands while learning advanced sales strategies aligns perfectly with my drive to succeed in tech sales.

Through my independent practice, CLG Project, I have sourced and qualified over 500 B2B prospects and developed targeted email and LinkedIn outreach campaigns, consistently generating 5–10 qualified leads per week. I am highly comfortable using AI tools, HubSpot, and personalized messaging to effectively engage C-Level decision-makers. While my direct experience has been in the e-commerce consulting space, I have built a strong foundation in prospecting, A/B testing, and pre-meeting preparation—and I am eager to bring that discipline to Attentive's AI marketing platform.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my coachability and proactive approach to pipeline generation can support the continued growth of the Account Executive team at Attentive.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets
