To: Hiring Team

Company: ASMALLWORLD

Role: Sales Manager

Dear Hiring Team,

ASMALLWORLD sits at the intersection of luxury, travel, and high-value networking. When I saw your requirement for a Sales Manager who is highly proficient with modern outreach tools like Apollo.io and Salesforce, I knew I had to apply. As a B2B sales professional who runs my own independent lead generation practice (CLG Project), I build and run full sales cycles using exactly these tools every single day.

I specialize in generating high-value B2B opportunities from scratch. Rather than relying solely on traditional methods, I leverage advanced workflows in Apollo.io and CRM systems to systematically identify, engage, and close senior stakeholders. I am highly disciplined about pipeline maintenance, persistent in the face of objections, and thrive in fast-paced environments where hitting targets is the baseline.

While my background is rooted in digital B2B sales rather than traditional luxury real estate or hospitality, the core mechanics of engaging high-value clients and corporate partners remain identical: pristine communication, relentless follow-up, and a highly systematic approach to CRM management.

I am fully fluent in English and Spanish, completely comfortable travelling to your Zurich HQ on a monthly basis, and ready to take ownership of ASMALLWORLD's B2B pipeline. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss my outreach framework with you.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets
