Role: Part-Time Lead Generation & Outbound Specialist

Dear David,

When I saw that AuditTruss is seeking an outbound specialist who understands the difference between dumping thousands of contacts into a sequence and actually generating qualified conversations, I knew I had to apply. As an independent B2B Lead Gen specialist, my entire process is built around precision targeting over sheer volume.

My B2B Outbound Experience & Tools: I currently run an independent B2B outbound engine where I exclusively use Apollo.io and LinkedIn Sales Navigator to build highly segmented lists. I specialize in verifying contact data and running iterative, tested messaging campaigns via Email and LinkedIn (using tools like Instantly.ai and Make.com for automation). This targeted approach consistently yields 5-10 qualified leads and 3 booked discovery meetings per week for my partners.

Industry Experience: While my background has primarily spanned various B2B services rather than specific commercial construction or ConTech roles, my research methodology is highly adaptable. I excel at mapping out new ICPs, finding the right decision-makers in complex organizational structures, and testing messaging until we find the exact angle that resonates with the market.

I am looking for a part-time remote contract (~15 hrs/week) and would love to help put AuditTruss in front of the right commercial contractors.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets
