Role: Business Development Representative – Paid Social

Dear Hiring Team,

As a proactive Business Development Representative based in Spain with direct experience opening new business for digital agency services, I was immediately drawn to this role. Knowing that your client is looking for a hands-on BDR who is deeply comfortable using AI tools to build pipeline and manage HubSpot workflows, I am confident my automated outbound methodology makes me an ideal fit.

Through my independent lead generation practice, I specialized in connecting e-commerce brands with Web Development and CRO agencies. I built target-account lists from scratch and relied heavily on AI tools (Claude, ChatGPT) and workflow automation (Make.com) to scrape prospect data, analyze their current acquisition strategies, and engineer highly personalized Email and LinkedIn sequences. This approach consistently generated 5-10 qualified leads per week.

Once a prospect engaged, I managed the entire qualification process directly within HubSpot, evaluating their commercial potential, understanding their digital challenges (discussing CPA, CAC, and ROAS objectives), and generating qualified conversations before handing them over to technical agency specialists.

I thrive on A/B testing messages, testing new verticals, and leveraging modern prospecting tools to scale outbound activity. I am fluent in English, fully authorized to work in Spain, and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my AI-driven outreach strategies can open new advertiser relationships for your client's paid social agency.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets
