To: Manahil Barbouche & Founder

Company: Hostlab

Role: Fully Remote BD/Sales, Short-Term Rental SaaS

Dear Manahil Barbouche,

As an independent Lead Generation Specialist who built an outbound prospecting system entirely from scratch, I am incredibly excited to apply for the BD/Sales role at Hostlab. Working autonomously on a commission-only basis is exactly how I have structured my own independent practice over the last year, and my flexible schedule makes me an ideal fit for this part-time/full-time opportunity.

Through my own business, I have successfully identified decision-makers, built targeted prospect lists, and sourced over 500 B2B prospects. By proactively conducting cold outreach via LinkedIn and email, I generated a consistent 5–10 qualified leads per week and booked discovery meetings. I am deeply accustomed to managing my own pipeline and taking full responsibility for generating opportunities. Furthermore, I actively integrate AI tools like ChatGPT into my daily workflow to optimize my outreach sequences and improve conversion rates, matching the innovative technical environment at Hostlab.

While my primary lead generation experience has focused on B2B Home Services rather than the short-term rental market, the core mechanics of scraping data, identifying property managers, and initiating high-value conversations translate perfectly. I am a highly motivated self-starter with excellent spoken English, and I would welcome the opportunity to work closely with the founder, book demos, and grow alongside Hostlab.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets
