

Daniil Kotelevets

Alicante, Spain | +34 698 996 086 | dkotelevets2007@gmail.com | linkedin.com/in/daniil-kotelevets-1a470a296

Date: September 29, 2026

To: Revna Cömertpay / Hiring Team

Company: Invenia (for Healthtech Start-up)

Role: Founders Associate / Strategy and Operations Associate

Dear Revna Cömertpay,

I am writing to apply for the Founders Associate position. As a Multimedia Engineering student who recently built an independent practice from the ground up, the requirement to "use AI and automation tools to make everyday work simpler and faster" resonates perfectly with my background.

In founding my own project (CLG Project), I operated entirely without a team or budget, which forced me to be highly resourceful. I built an end-to-end operational system from scratch, utilizing workflow automation (Make.com, Python) and AI tooling (Claude, Antigravity CLI) to eliminate manual bottlenecks in data extraction and pipeline generation. This technical setup allowed me to independently process, source, and qualify over 500 prospects, consistently generating 5–10 qualified leads per week. While the context was B2B pipeline generation, the core skill set—identifying operational inefficiencies, building automated workflows to solve them, and taking full initiative on strategy and execution—is exactly what I aim to bring to your founders.

While I do not have a scientific background in clinical genomics, I have a strong engineering mindset and a genuine curiosity to learn the medical field. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my proactive, hands-on experience with automation can help support your day-to-day operations and growth.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets