To: Harrison & the Hiring Team (harrison@leadrushlabs.com)

Company: LeadRush Labs

Role: Sales Development Representative Internship

Dear Harrison,

I am writing to express my strong interest in joining LeadRush Labs as a Sales Development Representative. Your description of an "ideal candidate" resonated with me deeply—specifically the need for grit, an enterprising personality, and the ability to adeptly learn new technology tools. As someone who has spent the last year running my own independent B2B lead generation practice (CLG Project), I bring exactly that resourcefulness to the table.

In my current work, I utilize advanced software and tools (such as Make.com, Python, Apollo.io, and Salesforce) to run highly personalized outbound campaigns. This tech-savvy approach allows me to consistently book 5 to 10 sales-qualified meetings per week. While your job description mentions that no sales experience is needed, my existing background means I can hit the ground running to book meetings for LeadRush and your clientele from day one.

I am an independent contractor based in Spain with a professional WFH setup and the flexibility to cover US timezones. I am incredibly hungry to learn from your team's years of sales and marketing experience, take advantage of your 1-on-1 coaching, and prove my drive by consistently exceeding expectations.

I look forward to the possibility of growing alongside LeadRush Labs.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets
