Role: Enterprise Account Executive

Dear Alberto Lanzi,

I am writing to apply for the Enterprise Account Executive position to help drive your client's expansion in the Spanish market. Your client is looking for someone with a proactive, entrepreneurial mindset who can own the full sales cycle from prospecting to close. As the founder of an independent B2B lead generation practice (CLG Project), this describes my day-to-day operations perfectly.

In my current role, I do not just pass leads to someone else; I own the entire revenue engine. I utilize advanced automation (Make.com, Python) and CRM discipline (HubSpot, Salesforce) to build pipeline from scratch. From there, I engage C-level stakeholders, run consultative discovery meetings, negotiate terms, and close my own B2B deals. This entrepreneurial experience gives me a distinct advantage: I have the aggressive pipeline generation capabilities of an SDR combined with the closing acumen of an AE.

While I do not come from a traditional HRTech or PeopleTech background, my technical education (Multimedia Engineering) allows me to master complex SaaS platforms rapidly. Furthermore, while my formal title has been Founder rather than a traditional quota-carrying Enterprise AE, my track record of exceeding my own business targets proves my ability to close complex B2B deals.

I am highly motivated by this high-growth environment, fluent in both Spanish and English, and fully available to spend the first month onboarding in Barcelona. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss this further.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets
