Role: Business Development Representative - Paid Social

Dear Hiring Team,

When I read that you are seeking a Business Development Representative who must be comfortable using AI tools and HubSpot to build pipeline, I immediately recognized the alignment with my expertise. As an independent B2B Lead Generation Specialist, I utilize AI and digital automation daily to sell specialized services directly to brands.

Over the past year, I built an end-to-end outbound engine from scratch. Leveraging tools like Make.com, Apollo.io, and generative AI (ChatGPT/Claude), I automated the extraction and enrichment of over 500 target accounts. I continuously build and A/B test personalized Email and LinkedIn sequences to engage marketing and growth decision-makers. My methodology focuses strictly on the top of the funnel: I generate 5–10 qualified leads per week, secure 3 weekly discovery meetings to evaluate the prospect's needs and current digital setup, and then hand over the qualified opportunity to technical specialists for deeper conversations. I organize all of this activity meticulously within HubSpot.

While I have slightly less than the requested two years of tenure, my hands-on mastery of HubSpot, AI-driven pipeline generation, and proven ability to sell a service via digital outbound channels make me highly prepared to open doors for your Paid Social agency. I am fully remote, fluent in English, and eager to feed market insights back to your team.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets
