To: Jason F., Executive Leader, Seven Hundred Consulting, LLC

Role: Lead Generation Specialist

Dear Jason,

When I read that Seven Hundred Consulting is looking for a Lead Generation Specialist to research target markets, build prospect lists, and schedule discovery calls for your consulting team, I knew I had to apply. As an independent B2B Lead Generation Specialist, executing Account Sales Strategies to secure meetings for professional services firms is exactly what I do.

Over the past year, I built an end-to-end outbound pipeline from the ground up. I utilized deep market research tools like Apollo.io and LinkedIn Sales Navigator to source and enrich a list of over 500 corporate decision-makers. By rigorously A/B testing digital outbound campaigns (Email and LinkedIn), I consistently generate 5–10 highly qualified leads and schedule 3 discovery meetings per week. I maintain meticulous CRM hygiene in HubSpot and Salesforce, analyzing lead performance and ensuring that every prospect I hand over to the core consulting team is primed for a productive conversation.

While my outreach strategy relies exclusively on proactive digital channels (Email and LinkedIn) rather than phone calling, my data-driven approach to prospect sourcing and CRM tracking ensures a highly scalable and robust pipeline. I am fully equipped to operate independently in a remote contract environment and eager to help Seven Hundred Consulting expand its footprint across your target markets.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets
