

Daniil Kotelevets

Alicante, Spain | +34 698 996 086 | dkotelevets2007@gmail.com | linkedin.com/in/daniil-kotelevets-1a470a296

Date: 2026-09-13

To: James Phillip S. & the VividLogic Team

Company: VividLogic

Role: Business Development Partner

Dear James,

As an independent Lead Generation Specialist based in Spain with a strong background in AI workflow automation and B2B SaaS outreach, I was immediately drawn to the Business Development Partner role at VividLogic. I am highly comfortable operating in a commission-only, outbound-focused environment within Europe.

Below is the information requested regarding my application:

Brief introduction and relevant experience: I operate an independent B2B lead generation practice where I build cold outbound pipelines from scratch. My strongest asset is my hands-on technical experience using tools like Make.com, Instantly.ai, and Claude to engineer AI-powered automation workflows for my own outreach—giving me a deep, practical understanding of the exact operational solutions VividLogic builds for clients.

Examples of deals closed and typical deal sizes: My core expertise to date has been operating as an SDR/Lead Gen Partner, focusing on originating high-ticket pipeline rather than final closing. I have successfully sourced opportunities and booked discovery meetings for digital service and agency partnerships typically valued in the €5,000–€15,000 range, handing them over to technical founders for final scoping.

Experience with outbound or cold sales: I have built my entire business on cold outbound sales. I recently constructed a prospect database of over 500 B2B decision-makers, managing a strict Email and LinkedIn outreach cadence that consistently generates 5–10 qualified leads per week.

My approach to generating and closing B2B opportunities from cold outreach: My approach relies on extreme personalization at scale through automation. I identify operational friction points (e.g., in e-commerce or logistics), enrich the contact data, and initiate multi-channel sequences (Email/LinkedIn). Once a prospect replies, I secure a discovery call to qualify their business needs and map them to our digital solutions. Moving into a full-cycle role with VividLogic, my goal is to leverage your technical scoping support to transition those discovery calls into structured proposal presentations and closed deals.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my automated outreach engine can generate pipeline for VividLogic.

Sincerely,

Daniil Kotelevets