Professional Summary

Results-driven B2B Sales Manager specializing in independent customer development, account management, and pipeline generation. Operating out of Spain, I bring strong commercial negotiation skills and an entrepreneurial approach to B2B sales. As the founder of my own lead generation practice (CLG Project), I excel at identifying high-potential business clients, running discovery processes, and converting opportunities into closed revenue. Eager to leverage my data-driven sales methodology to drive regional market growth for WIN SOURCE's electronic component distribution network.

Experience

Founder & B2B Sales Manager — CLG Project

Jul 2025 – Present | Independent Practice, Remote (Spain)

- Independently developed high-potential B2B customers across the European market, managing key accounts and building long-term business relationships from the ground up.
 - Drove customer opportunities from initial outbound prospecting and discovery stages through to final commercial negotiation and order conversion.
 - Scaled lead generation using modern digital tools (Apollo.io, Python, Make.com) to consistently target C-level executives and procurement leaders in targeted B2B sectors.
 - Led strategic quotations and complex commercial negotiations, directly contributing to long-term customer planning and sustainable revenue growth.
 - Maintained rigorous CRM hygiene (Salesforce, HubSpot) to track and manage sales opportunities, customer progress, and future growth potential.
 - Collaborated with business owners and partners to ensure smooth onboarding and consistent delivery of proposed solutions.
