Professional Summary

Proactive and customer-focused B2B Sales Representative with over a year of experience driving international business development and managing the full sales cycle. Expert in identifying commercial opportunities, conducting market research, and maintaining highly accurate CRM data (HubSpot/Salesforce). Currently pursuing a BSc in Multimedia Engineering, providing a strong technical foundation to rapidly learn complex markets such as AI infrastructure and electronics. Based in Spain, fully authorized to work locally, and eager to leverage a proactive outbound mindset to secure critical accounts for WIN SOURCE.

Experience

Founder & Lead Generation Specialist — CLG Project

Jul 2025 – Present | Independent practice, remote (Spain)

- Developed and maintained relationships with new and existing B2B customers, owning the complete sales cycle for specialized digital solutions (Web Development and CRO).
- Identified potential business opportunities through rigorous market research and customer development, executing consistent follow-up across Email and LinkedIn to build long-term value.
- Supported the full sales process: from initial RFQ and customer communication to quotation preparation, opportunity management, and seamless handover to technical teams.
- Maintained impeccable CRM hygiene (HubSpot / Salesforce), ensuring all customer information, opportunity updates, and communication records were accurately logged to support long-term regional market development.
- Navigated complex client requirements by understanding procurement timelines and operational challenges, delivering value-driven solutions rather than relying on purely transactional sales.
- Executed continuous international outreach campaigns (Spain and US markets), utilizing Apollo.io and Instantly.ai to streamline prospecting and generate 5-10 highly qualified meetings weekly.
